Apologies [REDACTED] I misread your email.

2.45pm is suitable, no problem.

Many thanks,

3:30 on 1st would be more difficult. 3 would be better, or even 2:30 or 2:45 would be even better.

Good Morning [REDACTED],

Thank you for your response.

It is difficult as there is annual leave from all SCDC attendees coming up over the next few weeks, hence the limited options especially with the time frame needed for this meeting.

If it is suitable for yourself and [REDACTED], can we book in 1st March at 3.30pm for a Teams call?

Many thanks,

Dear [REDACTED] Cc [REDACTED]

Unfortunately none of those dates work well for me. I'm fairly free between now and 14th March, when I'm off on a holiday for 10 days, and I'm away 6-8 March too.

I'm looking after [REDACTED] on 1st March in London, but I could probably combine that with a Zoom from 3-3:30.

Sorry to be so awkward. Feel free to suggest other dates.

Subject: data analysis

Good afternoon [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

I hope you are both well?

I'm putting you in contact with Anne Ainsworth and [REDACTED], my colleagues who will be leading on reporting the results from our trials, which you've kindly agreed to support in terms of the data analysis. They are keen to touch base with you in order to ensure they will have everything ready to send over to you for analysis.

One of them will be in touch to set up a meeting.

Best
Liz
